EXPV – 005

- A1 Missed soul
- A2 Where is that song
- B Where is that song – Joss Moog Rmx

Lately, newborn italian talents seem to be the coolest trend (even if their music isn't always the coolest stuff around), but here at the Exprezoo headquarters we don't really care about trends: we have always been releasing stuff by newborn italian talents, whenever they made music we like.

UES is a producer we like a lot, besides being a good friend of ours, so having the honor to release his tracks fills our hearts with joy, especially because the tracks contained in his first release on Exprezoo, "Thoughts of a ride ep", are really wonderful.

To celebrate his release on Exprezoo, Andrea has blended his own trademark sound with the one which is typical of our music, joining his characteristic funky drummings with the party-like and classy feeling which is constant throughout our catalog.

"Missed soul" and "Where is that song", then, will start fires during the sets of every dj willing to take Expv005 with them to open air parties during the next summer, thanks to their ability to be almost perfect on every occasion, ranging from beach cocktails at sunset with just a couple of friends to giga-festivals with thousands of people jumping and screaming.

To finish the ep, another fresh talent, just because we never grow tired of discovering new ones: this time it's Joss Moog, a name which will surely be heard around a lot in the next months, thanks to the astonishing quality of his tracks.
