Freaky, Moody and Black Pack

(Exprezoo Records, 2010)

"Freaky, moody & black pack" is the new magic trick by our favourite sleight-of-music, Quike; after having already sent us to raptures both on black wax and in digital format, this time he fills his magical blender with many different places and times and pulls out three tracks tasting like shiny disco balls and saturday night fever, but also like sunsets on Eivissa, with an aftertaste of black underground that never disappoints.

Three tracks completely different from one another, each of them made our heart beat in a different way.
